

SPUR

(1964)

R. Voss

Flowing Wells High School is somewhat similar to the desert --its natural surroundings. The century plant, which is perhaps the most spectacular of all desert plants, symbolizes the structure of the school itself. As the plant blossoms, so do new additions. School expansion is continually occurring while the short lived delicate flower of the century plant is the culmination of the decade.

Other plants of the desert might represent the administration, faculty, extra-curricular activities and students which combine to form the growing body of Flowing Wells.

With the close of 1964, F.W.H.S. will have, in ten years grown from a rural, conventional school to a modern, progressive one.

In essence, F.W. has reached a stature in the community of which we can all be proud of. It is not a position of size, but one of undaunted spirit, concentrated academics, athletic prowess and new ideas. The character and high standards of learning at F.W. in the years to come will depend on these outstanding qualities.

Mrs. Voss, I enjoyed giving in your class
this year because it is so casual especially when a radio is going full blast. Enjoy your summer and well other probably see each other next September.
A student,
Barbara Jaglin

The 1964 SPUR is dedicated to dedicationthe dedication manifested in the teaching career of a FW teacher Miss Noreen Ingle. She has been a teacher of advanced math at FW since 1954 when she came here from Watford City, N.D.

Miss Ingle is not an ordinary teacher. She has the respect of those she has taught Algebra, Geometry, and Trigonometry. The word taught should not be taken lightly for Miss Ingle's students have learned in her classes.

Not only in class has Miss Ingle shown deep interest in youth. She has sponsored the Student Council for several years. A great interest in extra-curricular affairs has been manifest in her presence at Flowing Wells.

She has fun too. She is an expert bowler and a wonderful chaperone on conventions.

The 1964 SPUR is dedicated to Miss Noreen Ingle who through her service, dedication and interest has contributed greatly to the education of her students.

Dedication Miss Noreen Ingle

Royalty

The Night Blooming Cereus is the fleeting flower of royalty. A bright flash in the life of a high school monarch and it is gone forever. The white flower of romance wilts upon exposure but the memory of tender beauty lives on to eternity.

The Saguaro is the sage Senior. It is the giant of the desert. It grows for centuries undaunted. Branching often, it searches for balance. The Senior tries to find his path by trying many. It blooms each June and then the flowers fall and the mighty Saguaro lives on.

Administration

and

Faculty

The barrel cactus of Administration and Faculty has only one part. This is the unified team of educators. Learning to the Southwest as a guide, the plant compares with the dedication of teachers and administrators, and counselors--dedication to molding the minds of youth in the direction of deep thought of leadership and of learning.

Flowing Wells School Board

The primary function of the Board of Education is to determine the basic policies and procedures under which our school operates. They are also responsible for budgets of expenditure decisions, evaluating the working of the school, providing buildings and equipment, and procuring and retaining qualified teachers.

Their job is not a simple one. Many long hours are expended by the members each year to see that Flowing Wells remains functioning smoothly. We thank them for their efforts and constant support of the student body.

School

Superintendent

1964 marks Flowing Wells High School's tenth anniversary. This is also the 75th anniversary of the Flowing Wells School District.

In 1889, several families living along the Santa Cruz and Rillito Rivers, northwest of Tucson, decided that the transportation of their children to the town school was too great a problem, so they petitioned for, and were granted, an elementary school.

The new district was designated number twenty-two and the name Rillito chosen. The district number was changed to number eight in 1900, and the name to Flowing Wells in 1928.

In April of 1954 Flowing Wells High School was established. Therefore, after sixty-five years, students from this district began attending their own high school. In 1956 the high school became fully accredited by the North Central Association of Secondary Schools. This meant that all credits earned at Flowing Wells High School could be transferred to any other high school or college at full value.

Flowing Wells High School has grown very rapidly during its short history. There were eighty-seven students enrolled the first year and thirty-five seniors in the first graduating class in 1957. This year there are seven hundred seventy-five students enrolled and the graduating class will number one hundred thirty-five.

I am very proud of Flowing Wells High School's graduates. They may be found successfully engaged in many fields of endeavor. I know the class of 1964 will add to the long list of outstanding accomplishments which have been achieved by our previous graduating classes.

Please accept my best wishes for continued success in all your future endeavors.

Very truly yours,

George D. Amundson

TO THE CLASS OF '64

It has been my great privilege to assist you as you traversed the paths of high school. I congratulate you on the measured success you deserve and I know you will continue to succeed in your chosen fields.

The accomplishments of your class have left their mark upon the traditions of Flowing Wells High School. May you continue to progress through life and may your successes be unbounded.

As you enter the third stage of your 'Golden Age' may you ever remember "To You Belongs The Future" and by never looking back may the Future be yours.

By holding true to your high ideals and moral standards I am sure you will secure the most successful and profitable life possible.

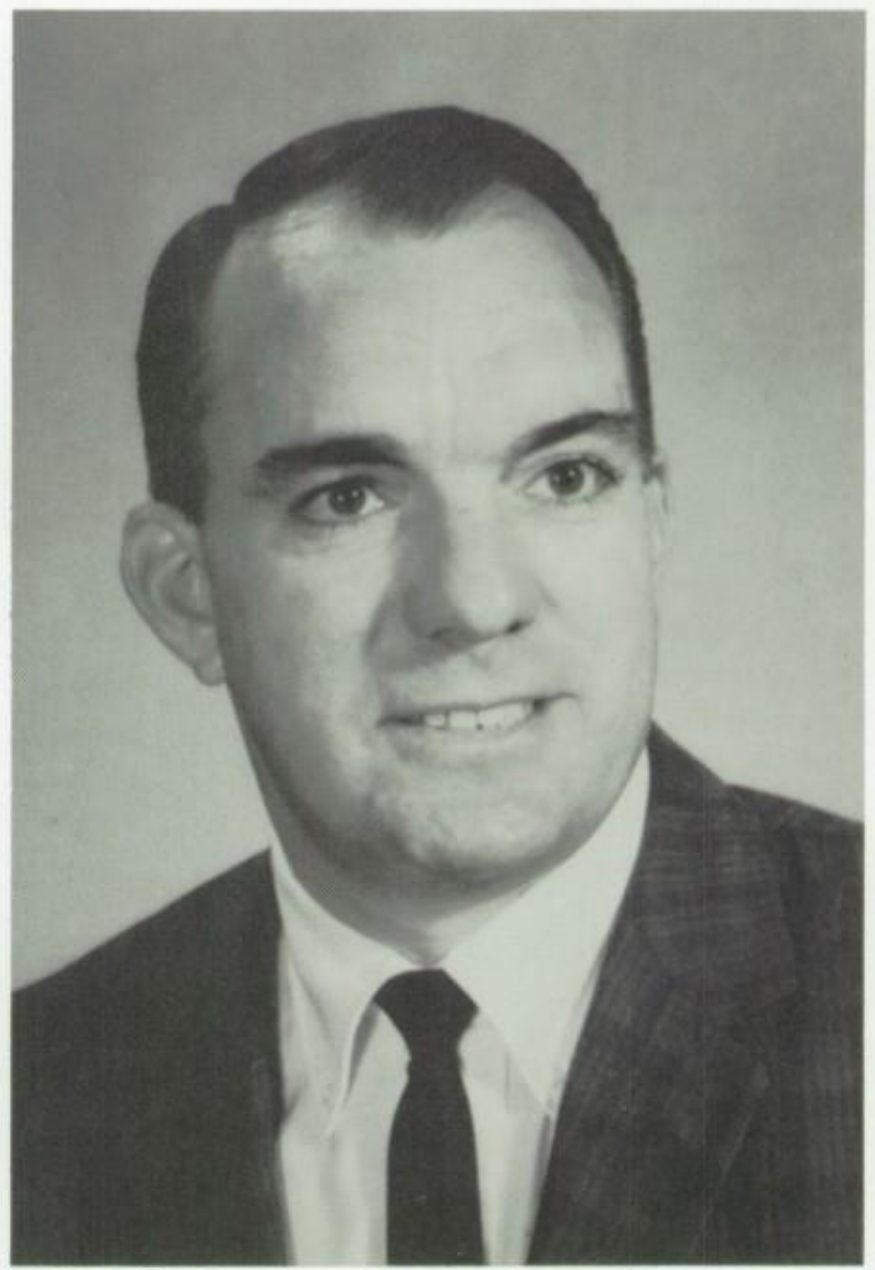

Sincerely yours,

William D. Lovett

The Yucca is the Soldier of the Desert--the Junior. It grows in a clump of unity. A thick group of knives protects the all high bloom--the products of work, fears, frustration: perhaps a prom or a car-wash. Like a lance, the Junior dives to the core in a violent sweep. Though he overshoots at times, he marches ever onward.

The Palo Verde is the "green stick" of the Sophomore. It has a sturdy trunk but has grown out before growing up. The Sophomore gains experience before he learns to handle it. Luckily he is well-rooted.

The Freshman is denoted by the Ocotillo. It is an Ocotillo which has been transplanted from the unpopulated desert of junior high, to the "cosmopolitan" high school life. It has to adapt.

SPORTS

The prickly pear of Sports has many branches. The cactus will grow anywhere and if broken the new parts will regenerate into another sturdy plant. At FW, the athletes keep trying. They start with a few uncoordinated members, and soon develop a strong working body; a TEAM. The victory can be sweet, but defeat can prick the spirit.

FAST BREAKING CABALLEROS POST THIRD CONFERENCE WIN

The high flying Caballeros have proved that old axiom, "Two's luck and three is skill," by winning their third consecutive conference championship. FW has completed a perfect 10-0 conference record. However, the Cab's over all record is 17-2, and the season was not a bed of roses. Early season losses to A-A Amphi and Sunnyside left FW with a 3-2 record but then the Cabs won 13 straight, including an 80-73 win over Sunnyside and a 67-65 win over Amphi.

Outstanding Girl Athlete

1963-1964

Mary Daniels

Mary Daniels was selected for the Outstanding Girl Athlete because though she is small, she is a vital part of the Girls Athletic Program.

Mary has been active all her high school years. She has made all the Varsity teams--Volleyball, Hockey, Basketball, and Softball. During her Senior year, besides being Vice-President of GAA, she has served on the Spur Staff. She became a Pom Pon girl at the semester change, so her participation has been well known to her fellow classmates.

Her "chatter in the shortstop area" will be greatly missed next year.
